

Count Puppies Flash Cards

ONE

little puppy came out to play.

She called for her sister and asked her to stay. She begged and pleaded for her to play. "Please just for a minute, maybe just a few?" Her sister agreed and then there were

TWO

Now there was nothing for them to do. The two little puppies called out for one more. Then along came a puppy with a bone to explore. "Now there are

THREE"

the puppies all said, but we can't play any games unless there are more. "I'll call for our brother", the beige puppy said, "then it will be fair", and then there were

FOUR

Four little puppies were having so much fun, when along came another one. "Can I watch while you play your games", he cried. "Yes", they replied, and then there were

FIVE

Five little puppies started to yawn, "we are so tired, we should nap on the lawn". They found a good spot to lay their heads down, beside a basket for which they found. Out jumped a puppy who was playing tricks. Do you know how many puppies there are? Now there are

SIX

Six little puppies all rested from play, now what other games will they play today? "Let's play chase" one little puppy said. "We'll run as fast as we can and make it a race". Then they all started to run out of place, until they noticed a brand new face. Do you know which one won the race? The new puppy that joined the chase. Now there are

SEVEN

Seven little puppies now ready to eat, they finished their food and begged for a treat. "You must find your brother" the mother said, and when they found him, then there were

EIGHT

Eight little puppies must now take a bath. They jumped and they played in the water splish splash. Their mother cleans them and dries them all off. She brushed them and patted them until they were fluff. She counted them all, and could only find eight, "I am missing one, it must be that Nate. I hope he comes quick, I am running out of time, if he was here there would be

NINE"

Nine little puppies lay down in their bed. Their father reads them a book and now there are

TEN

Read each flash card slowly, with the card facing the children. Have the children tell you what number you are at. i.e. read "and now there are" pause and let the children say the number. Have the children count the puppies on the flash cards with their fingers.
